SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada or Mexico) shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection of such vessel lists containing the name, age, nationality (race), last permanent residence (country), and final destination of each alien employed on such vessel, and such other information relative to such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor or by the boards of special inquiry provided for in section 16 hereof. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel is admitted to entry, and a correct list of the aliens employed on such vessel shall be delivered to the immigration officer at each port at which the vessel shall touch before sailing for the United States. Any master who shall refuse or fail to deliver such lists, or who shall deliver incorrect lists, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such master shall refuse or fail to deliver a correct list, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) Every alien employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, shall be deported to the country whence he came, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, or the steamship company operating such vessel, shall deposit with the Secretary of Labor the sum of $300, or furnish a bond in such amount, not exceeding $300, as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned upon the departure of such alien from the United States within such time as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Upon the departure of such alien from the United States within the time specified by the Secretary of Labor, the sum deposited as herein provided shall be returned to the depositor, but such sum shall be forfeited to the United States if such alien shall remain in the United States beyond the time specified by the Secretary of Labor, unless such failure is excused by the Secretary of Labor upon the ground that such alien was prevented from departing from the United States by sickness or other cause beyond his control, which shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor by the United States consular officer before the departure of such alien from a foreign port, or by the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival in the United States, or by the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure from the United States, and not otherwise. Upon the forfeiture of any such deposit, or any part thereof, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel any outstanding bond given by the depositor.

Upon the departure of such alien from the United States within the time specified by the Secretary of Labor, the sum deposited as herein provided shall be returned to the depositor, but such sum shall be forfeited to the United States if such alien shall remain in the United States beyond the time specified by the Secretary of Labor, unless such failure is excused by the Secretary of Labor upon the ground that such alien was prevented from departing from the United States by sickness or other cause beyond his control, which shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor by the United States consular officer before the departure of such alien from a foreign port, or by the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival in the United States, or by the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure from the United States, and not otherwise. Upon the forfeiture of any such deposit, or any part thereof, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel any outstanding bond given by the depositor.

(d) Every alien employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, shall be deported to the country whence he came, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, or the steamship company operating such vessel, shall deposit with the Secretary of Labor the sum of $300, or furnish a bond in such amount, not exceeding $300, as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned upon the departure of such alien from the United States within such time as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Upon the departure of such alien from the United States within the time specified by the Secretary of Labor, the sum deposited as herein provided shall be returned to the depositor, but such sum shall be forfeited to the United States if such alien shall remain in the United States beyond the time specified by the Secretary of Labor, unless such failure is excused by the Secretary of Labor upon the ground that such alien was prevented from departing from the United States by sickness or other cause beyond his control, which shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor by the United States consular officer before the departure of such alien from a foreign port, or by the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival in the United States, or by the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure from the United States, and not otherwise. Upon the forfeiture of any such deposit, or any part thereof, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel any outstanding bond given by the depositor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such seaman has been paid wages by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, and such wages exceed the amount necessary to pay the cost of such deportation, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be deported on such vessel, or may cause the amount necessary to pay the cost of such deportation to be withheld from such wages and paid to the master of such vessel for the payment of such deportation.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if alien of the class of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped to engage, and whether they are citizens of the United States; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at arrival at each port as aforesaid, the name of every such alien found on board who was not included in the lists required to be delivered by him, and the failure to report the name of any such alien found on board shall be prima facie evidence that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel has violated the provisions of this section. Any such alien who shall secrete himself on board such vessel and fail to report for inspection by the immigration officers at the port of arrival shall be deported in the same manner as provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver lists required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to report, add to, or change the name of any alien so employed, or who shall refuse or fail to truthfully answer questions propounded to him by an immigrant inspector concerning any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, and shall be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien who has been refused admission and ordered deported under the provisions of this Act shall pay the cost of such alien's maintenance while detained awaiting deportation, and the cost of his deportation to the port whence he came, or to the country from which he last came, as the Secretary of Labor may direct, and shall be liable to the United States for any such cost or expense incurred in connection with such maintenance and deportation which may be recovered by the Government of the United States or by any person who shall furnish the same, in any action in any court of competent jurisdiction.

SEC. 37. That any alien who shall enter or attempt to enter the United States in violation of this Act shall be deported as provided in this Act to the country whence he came, or, at his option, to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the country whence he came, and who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto, or who shall enter or attempt to enter the United States by means of any false or misleading statement or without inspection and admission by the immigration officers when such inspection is required at the time of such entry or who shall enter or attempt to enter at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who has been excluded from admission and deported and thereafter shall return to or enter the United States, or who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto, shall be taken into custody and deported in the following manner:

(a) The Secretary of Labor shall cause any such alien to be brought before a board of special inquiry for inspection, and such board shall have power to determine whether such alien belongs to any of the classes excluded by law, and such determination, if favorable to the admission of such alien, shall be final and conclusive unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor. Such appeal shall be taken within ten days after the rendition of the decision, unless reserved or extended for good cause by the Secretary of Labor. Pending the final determination of the appeal, the alien shall be detained in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Such boards shall consist of three immigrant inspectors, any two of whom may render a decision, subject to the right of appeal herein provided. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, appoint boards of special inquiry at such ports of entry as the business of immigration may require, and may detail immigrant inspectors to act as members of such boards in addition to their regular duties. The Secretary of Labor may also, in his discretion, order the rehearing by a board of special inquiry of the case of any alien who has been excluded and deported, whenever in his judgment such rehearing may be necessary or desirable.

(b) Any alien who shall come to the United States in violation of law may be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at any time within one year after the entry of such alien at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. After the expiration of one year, such deportation shall be at the expense of the United States, unless the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion otherwise direct. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto, and who shall be found therein at any time thereafter, shall be deported as provided in this Act, except as otherwise provided in subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any alien against whom proceedings are taken under the provisions of this section is a bona fide resident of the United States and that no cause exists for deporting him to the country whence he came to the United States, the Secretary of Labor may cancel the proceedings against such alien.

(d) Any alien who shall be arrested under the provisions of this section shall be taken without unnecessary delay for examination before a board of special inquiry, and pending such examination, detention, or deportation shall be in charge of the immigration officers. Such aliens may be released from custody upon the execution by such alien and two responsible sureties of a bond in such amount, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the production of such alien for examination, detention, or deportation when directed by the Secretary of Labor or any person designated by him for that purpose. Such bonds may be canceled upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor or his designated representative that the alien has departed from the United States or has been taken into custody and deported in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such bonds may be sued upon and recovered in the name of the United States in the district in which they were taken for the use of the United States by any district attorney thereof upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor or his designated representative that the terms of the bond have been violated.

(e) Any alien who shall come in violation of law to the United States, whether by water or by land, and who may not be lawfully deported shall, if practicable, be detained in custody pending determination of his case. Any alien who shall come in violation of the provisions of this Act may, in lieu of being taken into custody, be released under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, sufficient to insure the presentation of such alien when required for inspection or hearing or for examination before a board of special inquiry or for deportation.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Recording on separate manifests prohibited: and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; but also recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the first class and the so-called tourist class, whose rates based the initials of technical fares, and those whose rates do not post such initials. The names of immigrants to a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Line of print).—The first column should be extended in front of the name to number consecutively the lines of each page of the manifest, beginning with 1 on each page.

Column 2 (Sex).—The term should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The answer should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as for example: Clerk, engineer, stenographer, accountant, author, typist, laborer, farmer, merchant, tailor, housewife, servant, waiter, cook, barber, baker, etc., but not simple as engineer, laborer, etc., but a definite designation.

A distinction should be made between technical and train inspector, telegraph and telephone operator, as follows:

A term is one who operates a train, either for himself or for others.

A term is one who operates or works on a train for the same employer.

Seamen should be entered as sailor, fireman, coal passer, etc., but not simply as seamen, unless the nature of their employment cannot be ascertained.

Laborers should make their distinction on the manifest, but correction should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of aliens arrived.

Column 5 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—The entry should give name, exact relationship, and complete address of such relative or friend in country whence alien came. Care must be taken to secure the name and address of relative or friend in country of alien's birth rather than that of temporary residence. If no such relative or friend in country whence alien came. A address should indicate where such person resided.

Column 6 (Name and destination).—The answer is the name and complete address of the person to whom the alien is to be sent, as for example, "Care of [name], 1 Broadway, New York City." If alien is unable to name any destination from the terminal, the word "None" should be stated. If alien is unable to name any destination from the terminal, the word "None" should be stated.

Column 7 (Nationality).—Indication of country to which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 8 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race or people as given in this list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject; country of last permanent residence and country of birth, and should be carefully observed by inspectors in this regard. For instance, "France" appearing under the head of country does not mean "French" by race or people, but similarly "French" appearing under the head of race or people does not mean "France" by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly write "France" by country, or Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following distinctions should be carefully observed:

Column 23 (Whether going to join relative or friend).—The answer should show whether going to join either a relative or friend, with name and complete address: and if a relative, the exact relationship.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States; records on separate manifests should be kept of the embarkation of aliens destined to the United States and of those destined elsewhere, and those aliens who do not pass such tests. Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according as separate manifests should be required by the immigration laws and administrative regulations. Under the immigration Act of 1924, and also according as separate manifests should be prepared in the third class and the so-called tourist class, where these both the initials of technical advisers, and those where there is not both classes, as provided in section 13 (c) of the immigration Act of 1924, or in a friendly shell between ports, when the same manifest sheet may be used if they travel in the same class; and it they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Line number).—Number the lines consecutively, beginning with 1 on each sheet.

Column 2 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The entry should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

A distinction should be made between laborers and skilled laborers, laborers of the various kinds, as follows:

A farmer is one who owns a farm or rents one for the purpose of cultivating it or for others.

A farmer laborer is one who works on a farm for the most who operates it.

A laborer is one who performs a farm, either for himself or for others.

The term "Cuban" refers to the Cuban people (not Negroes).

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

If the alien named herein is detained on board the vessel by the immigration officers, the master will be required to deposit with the Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival a bond in the penalty sum of $300 conditioned that the said alien will not become a public charge within five years after the date of entry, and that he will deport said alien if required to do so by the Secretary of Labor at any time within five years after the date of entry. If the alien is destined to a point other than the port of arrival, the bond will be transferred to the Commissioner of Immigration at the port of destination upon the filing of a new bond in the penalty sum of $300 by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or lessee of the vessel.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That no person, unless duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or allowed by the proper court or order thereof to enter the United States shall be admitted to the United States or shall have the right to become a citizen or to receive any of the benefits of the naturalization laws, whether such application for admission or to become a citizen or for such benefits is made before a court or immigration officer, or at any other time or place. Whenever any alien arrives at a port of the United States, whether by water or by land, from any country contiguous to the United States, the Commissioner of Immigration at such port shall have the right, power, and authority to require such alien to establish that he is entitled under this Act to enter the United States, and for such purpose to subject such alien to a careful examination and inspection, and to take and consider evidence, in addition to the production of passports, touching the admissibility of such alien, which evidence shall be taken in writing and filed with the records of the immigration officers at such port. Such examination shall be conducted by a board of special inquiry, consisting of not less than three immigrant inspectors, a majority of whom shall have the power to admit aliens, subject to the right of appeal by the alien or by any one of the dissenting members of the board to the Secretary of Labor, which appeal shall be taken within such time and manner and upon such notice to the parties interested as may be prescribed by rules made by the Secretary of Labor and approved by the President. The decision of such board or of the Secretary of Labor on appeal, when favorable to the admission of any alien, shall be final as to such alien's right to enter the United States unless upon the certificate of the board of special inquiry, approved by the Secretary of Labor on appeal, the alien is subsequently found to be clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt subject to deportation, in which case he shall be deported as provided in this Act. Such further inquiry shall be conducted upon warrant and notice to the alien specifying the charges on which he will be detained for such further inquiry, and he shall be allowed a reasonable opportunity, after the service of such notice and before the commencement of such further inquiry, to communicate with and secure the services of counsel or friends, who shall be permitted to be present during such further inquiry. The said boards of special inquiry shall have power to administer oaths and to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, and may, where it shall appear necessary or proper, issue subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses, which subpœnas may be served by any person authorized to serve subpœnas or process in the courts of the United States, and may invoke the aid of any court of the United States in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and documents relating to any matter which may be under investigation before said boards of special inquiry, and any court so invoked may issue an order requiring such witnesses to appear before said boards of special inquiry, there to produce books, papers, and documents if so ordered, and to give testimony touching the matter under investigation; and any failure to obey such order may be punished by such court as a contempt thereof. The Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival may, in his discretion, take or cause to be taken the testimony of witnesses in behalf of any alien seeking admission to the United States. All decisions made by boards of special inquiry shall be subject to such review, reversal, affirmance, or modification by the Secretary of Labor or such subordinate immigration officers as he may designate, whose decision may be based upon such additional evidence as he may deem necessary, which evidence shall be taken under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. All appeals must be taken within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding ten days after the decision appealed from is rendered, except that in cases certified by a board of special inquiry to the Secretary of Labor before a decision is rendered the Secretary of Labor may authorize the admission of the alien pending the receipt and consideration of the views of the dissenting member or members of the board of special inquiry and the decision of the Secretary of Labor thereon. All cases in which aliens are excluded from admission into the United States under this section shall be reported immediately, with the facts and the action thereon, to the Secretary of Labor, which reports shall be printed for the information of Congress. Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the admission of any alien who is exempted from the payment of the head tax by section three of this Act, or who is a citizen of the United States, or who shall establish his right to admission under the provisions of section four of this Act.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival manifests containing the names of all aliens, their nationality, race, and last or permanent residence, whether they have immigrant visas or not, and whether they were lawfully admitted to the United States or not, their final destination, whether they are in possession of money and how much, whether they have been previously in the United States or which of them have been in prison or almshouses or institutions for the care of the insane, and who paid their passage; and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe as to the right to admission of any alien. The master shall furnish to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens who have been stricken from the manifest by the boards of special inquiry, with the date of such action, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel if ordered by the chief of such bureau, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the port of departure a further list containing the names of all aliens who have been brought on board such vessel at any port or place in the United States after the departure of the vessel from the last port or place in the United States at which she stopped, and the reasons for bringing them on board. Such further list shall be certified by the master to be true and complete in the manner above provided for the certification of the original list. Any master who shall refuse to deliver the lists required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer questions, or shall willfully answer falsely with respect to any matter or thing concerning any alien or passenger carried by him, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which the vessel shall arrive, or from which she shall depart, a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense.

SEC. 37. (a) That the master, purser, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person in charge of the port of arrival has reasonable grounds to believe that any alien on board such vessel has been smuggled in violation of the immigration laws of the United States, upon information given by any person employed on board such vessel, shall be examined by the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival as to such alien's right to enter the United States, which examination shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner, or such part of such examination as the principal immigration officer may deem necessary, and such alien shall not be allowed to land in the United States unless and until he has been duly admitted by the principal immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 38. (b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien examined or the vessel on which he arrived should cause undue hardship to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, he may cause such alien to be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the master pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) Any person who shall bring to the United States any alien who is not admissible under the provisions of this Act, or who shall bring to the United States any alien for the purpose of assisting such alien to enter unlawfully, or who shall conceal, harbor, or shield from detection any such alien in the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, for each and every such alien.

(d) Section 55 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from any island adjacent thereto, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, unless a bond in the sum of $500 is deposited by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for each such alien seaman to insure the return of such alien seaman on board such vessel when she departs from the United States. Upon the refusal of any such alien seaman to depart on board such vessel when ordered, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be notified to that effect and required forthwith to remove such alien seaman from the United States. Upon the failure of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to remove such alien seaman within five days after such notification or to deposit such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from any island adjacent thereto, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

Such lists shall be prepared in such manner and contain such particulars concerning each alien employee as the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe, and shall be subscribed and sworn to by the master or agent of such vessel before the consul-general, consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States at the port of departure, if there be one at such port, and if not, then before the collector of customs or other officer designated by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose. Such officer shall certify upon each list the date on which and the port from which the vessel sailed, and shall deliver one copy of each list so certified to the immigration officer at the port of arrival of such vessel, and shall retain one copy of each list so certified for a period of not less than two years, subject to the inspection of such persons as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor for that purpose. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who refuses or fails to exercise due diligence in the preparation thereof, or who refuses or fails to deliver to any such immigration officer any such list so required, or who refuses or fails to answer truthfully and fully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the matters about which information is required by this section, or who refuses or fails to comply with any such regulation or order, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: but no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid: nor shall such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or emergency requiring his removal to a hospital for treatment, or for such other reasons as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such regulations as he may prescribe, and in no case for a longer period than may be necessary for the purpose specified. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to depart on board thereof or on board some other vessel before such immediately upon the departure of such vessel, unless prevented by illness, injury, or other cause beyond his control, which cause shall be certified by the master of such vessel, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who is deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section shall be deported to the port in which he was originally shipped by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, if practicable, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his deportation shall be borne by the master of such vessel. Any master who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this section or with any order or regulation made thereunder, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien seaman required to be detained on board his vessel, or who shall refuse or fail to deport any such alien seaman when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The names of all members of a family should appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate pers of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical attention, or because of such exigencies as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. Such seaman, during the period of his authorized stay in the United States, shall be subject to such rules and regulations governing his admission, entry, and departure as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe.

SEC. 56. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection at all ports shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Clearance shall be granted notwithstanding the determination of the liability to the payment thereof pursuant to this subdivision, but no such vessel shall be granted clearance until such sum is paid, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after requirements by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman on such vessel, or that no such vessel is available for the deportation of such alien within a period of time deemed by him reasonable, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury requiring hospital treatment, or because of quarantine regulations, or by permission of the Secretary of Labor, who may prescribe for the withdrawal of such seamen from the United States, or their deportation to such alien's home in the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall before departure of such alien from the United States, cause each alien employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the discharge granted to the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall be refused a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, shall be taken there forthwith by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived as a seaman, and such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay the expenses and maintenance of such alien seaman pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law requires that there shall be inspected on board every vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any foreign port or place a list of the persons on board. The list of persons to be inspected must be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of arrival, or, if the vessel arrives at night, as soon thereafter as possible. The list must be prepared in accordance with the following instructions, which are printed on the back of the list for your convenience:

1. The list must contain the name of every person on board, including the master, officers, crew, cabin passengers, and stowaways, if any.

2. The names must be written in the order of the alphabet of the surnames of the persons, and the list must be prepared in such manner that the surname and the first name of each person may be readily distinguished.

3. The age of each person must be given as of his last birthday before the date of sailing from the last port, and the month of birth must be stated if the person is under 1 year of age.

4. The sex of each person must be indicated by the letter "M" for male and "F" for female.

5. The married condition of each person must be indicated by the letter "M" if married, "S" if single, "W" if widowed, and "D" if divorced.

6. The calling or occupation of each person must be stated. Wives and children, if they have no occupation, must be returned as having "no occupation." Laborers must be distinguished from persons following skilled occupations, as cooks, mechanics, seamstresses, etc.

7. The nationality of each person must be given. Nationality means the country to which the person belongs or owes allegiance. For example, a native of Germany, naturalized in the United States, remains a German so far as nationality is concerned unless he has taken out his second papers and become a citizen of the United States. Nationality is usually indicated by the statement that the person is a citizen or subject of some country.

8. The last residence of each person must be given. This means the country in which he has his home, or where he lives and has a family or business connections, and to which he returns after visiting other countries. Thus, a person who comes to the United States from Germany, but who has been living in Belgium for the last two years, must be set down as having last resided in Belgium.

9. The intended future permanent residence in the United States must be stated. Mere temporary visitors should be described as visitors.

10. The final destination, so far as known, must be given. This means the place in which it is intended to spend the future rather than merely the port to which the person is destined on the present journey.

11. The identity and relationship to the person, if any, with whom each alien is coming must be stated. This includes husband, wife, parent, grandparent, child, grandchild, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, cousin, fiancé, fiancée, friend, employer, or other relative or friend, and the name and complete address of such person must be given.

12. Whether the ticket is paid for by the person himself or by other persons or by some society or other corporation, must be stated.

13. Whether the person has been in the United States before, and if so, when, where, and how long ago, must be stated.

14. Whether the person has a ticket through to his ultimate destination must be stated.

15. Whether the person is in possession of $50 in money, and if not, how much less than $50 he has, must be stated. Any amount of money carried by the person must be stated, no matter how large.

16. Whether the person is coming by reason of any offer, promise, agreement, or assurance of employment in the United States must be stated.

17. Whether the person has been deported at any time, and if so, the cause for deportation, must be stated.

18. Whether the person is a polygamist, or believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or is an anarchist, must be stated.

19. Whether the person has a contagious disease, and if so, what disease, must be stated.

20. Whether the person is deformed or crippled, and if so, how, must be stated.

21. The height of each person must be stated.

22. Whether the person is a citizen of the United States must be stated.

23. Whether the person is coming to the United States to perform labor of any kind, skilled or unskilled, must be stated.

24. Whether the person has been in prison or in a almshouse or an asylum, or supported by charity, must be stated.

25. Whether the person is a professional beggar must be stated.

26. Whether the person is a vagrant must be stated.

27. Whether the person is under contract or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States must be stated.

28. Whether the person is an idiot, insane person, epileptic, or has been insane within five years previous must be stated.

29. Whether the person has tuberculosis in any form must be stated.

30. Whether the person is a professional thief, or has been convicted of or admits having committed a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude must be stated.

31. Whether the person is a prostitute or has been a prostitute within one year previous must be stated.

32. Whether the person is coming for an immoral purpose must be stated.

33. Whether the person is a polygamist must be stated.

34. Whether the person is an alien who has previously been refused admission to the United States, or deported, and is coming in violation of law must be stated.

35. Whether the person is a contract laborer, and if so, whether he has a ticket or passage paid for by another, or has his passage paid for with the money of another, or is coming in pursuance of a previous promise or agreement or solicitation must be stated.

36. Whether the person is an author, editor, journalist, or professional writer must be stated.

37. Whether the person is coming in pursuance of an offer to perform labor in some specified kind of employment must be stated.

38. Whether the person intends to become a citizen of the United States must be stated.

39. Whether the person is a member of the anarchistic or other class of aliens described in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is required for all persons in addition to the other questions applicable to them.

40. Whether the person is in possession of a ticket or passage through to the United States must be stated.

41. Whether the person is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his name and complete address must be stated.

42. The nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came must be stated, his name and complete address being given.

43. The amount of money in his possession must be stated.

50. The place of birth, including the city or town, if possible, must be stated.

51. The name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came must be stated.

Any master who fails to deliver such lists, or who refuses to make answer to any question touching the information required by this section to be stated in such lists, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such information is required and not furnished, which penalty may be sued for and recovered by the United States, or shall be deducted from any moneys due or to become due to such master or vessel from the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of such sum as may be required by the collector of customs or other officer of the customs charged with the collection of the head tax, to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector.

(b) That all the provisions of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, relating to the removal of aliens who may be excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, and the payment of the cost of such removal, or deportation of aliens who may be found unlawfully in the United States or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or who may come in violation of law, shall apply to aliens employed on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign contiguous territory.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except Canada, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or otherwise in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance of such seaman on shore under bond, and when ordered deported from the United States such alien seaman shall be deported to the country to which he belongs, or in which he has a residence, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him. Any such alien seaman who fails to report for deportation or who enters any part of the United States during the time he is required by the Secretary of Labor to remain in pursuance of this section shall be deported as provided in this section in the case of seamen who have been granted shore leave. Deportation under this section shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the expenses of the Immigration Service. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be liable to a fine of not more than $500 or to imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel before departure a complete and accurate list, in the English language, of all aliens employed on board such vessel, regardless of whether such aliens intend to land in the United States, except those employed on board vessels plying between ports of Canada and ports of the United States on the Great Lakes or their connecting waters, or between ports of Canada and ports of the United States on the Saint Lawrence River, or between ports of Canada and ports of the United States on the Pacific Coast, or between ports of Canada and ports of the United States on the Atlantic Coast north of Cape Cod, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such information is not furnished, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who fails to deliver such lists, or who refuses to make answer to any question touching the information required by this section to be stated in such lists, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such information is required and not furnished, which penalty may be sued for and recovered by the United States, or shall be deducted from any moneys due or to become due to such master or vessel from the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of such sum as may be required by the collector of customs or other officer of the customs charged with the collection of the head tax, to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector.

(c) If the secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which they would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause them to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which arrived, but such other vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the secretary of Labor.

Each alien member of the crew must present a valid passport and visa at the time of inspection. Any alien member of the crew who is ill or injured at the time the vessel is ready to depart from the United States may be temporarily hospitalized in the port of arrival, or left behind in the custody of the master, at the discretion of the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival. Such alien member of the crew may be required to furnish a bond in an amount determined by the immigration officer, conditioned upon the alien's departure from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on such other vessel as may be designated by the immigration officer. Such alien member of the crew may be required to report to the immigration officer at such time or times as may be prescribed. No alien member of the crew will be permitted to land in the United States except at the port of arrival, unless specifically authorized by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival. Any alien member of the crew who is certified by the examining surgeon to have a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease will be detained on board or at quarantine until he is no longer certified to be such a menace to the health of the United States, except that in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor he may be permitted to land temporarily under bond or such other safeguards as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien member of the crew who is certified by the examining surgeon to be mentally defective, or to have had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, or to have had a mental defect which in the opinion of the medical officer may affect the ability of the alien to support himself without becoming a public charge, or to be afflicted with constitutional psychopathic inferiority, chronic alcoholism, epilepsy, or a history of one or more of such attacks, will be certified for special inquiry. Any alien member of the crew who is certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a dangerous communicable disease of the eye, or who has been certified within one year previous to the date of application for admission to have had any form of trachoma, will be certified for special inquiry. Any alien member of the crew who is certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease not specifically mentioned above, which is determined by the Public Health Service to be of such a character as to be likely to endanger the public health, will be certified for special inquiry. Any alien member of the crew who is certified by the examining surgeon to be a person who is mentally or physically defective in such a manner as to render it unlikely that he will be able to earn a living, will be certified for special inquiry. EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged the sections prescribed and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel as the time of the arrival but who have been discharged, and of those who have died, or who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States having jurisdiction of the locality in which the port of arrival is located shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been tendered: and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act pending need thereof, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or entering any such vessel at a foreign port for the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from a place in foreign contiguous territory) shall be responsible for the payment of the hospital expenses and the burial expenses of any seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has determined such seaman to be entitled to be treated as a member of the crew of such vessel, and for the return of such seaman to a place in the country where he was engaged, or to the country to which the vessel on which he arrived belongs, or to the country in which he shipped, or to such other place as may be agreed upon between such seaman and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, or the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or the Secretary of Labor, or to such other place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and for the support and maintenance of such seaman until he reaches such place, and for the payment of the head tax, if any, required by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, in connection with his departure from the United States, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or owner of such vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof in such amount, not exceeding $300 for each seaman, as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned upon the performance by such master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or owner of the duties imposed upon him by this section and upon the payment of the head tax, if any, required by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, in connection with the departure of such seaman from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit with the collector of customs the sum required by this section in connection with such seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's country, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board such vessel at the time of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, as the case may be; and such immigration officer, in making a search of such vessel if deemed necessary, shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who were not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's sailing from the last foreign port or place: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of any such vessel shall not be required to report the name of any alien member of the crew employed solely as a steward, cook, or waiter on the vessel, who shall have been duly shipped and identified by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel as a bona fide member of the crew employed for the round trip, and who shall have been granted shore leave by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, and who intends to depart with the vessel upon her next departure from port: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of any such vessel shall not be required to report the name of any alien employed solely as a steward on a vessel plying exclusively between ports of the United States and Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Central America, the West Indies, Bermuda, the Panama Canal Zone, Newfoundland, or Miquelon, but such vessel shall, when required by the Secretary of Labor, furnish a list containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and intended final destination of each alien employed as such steward.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical attendance, or treatment to such extent and for such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purpose, or unless specifically certified by the medical officer of the port as a deserving case, or pending the departure of the vessel or the seaman's certification by the medical examiners).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has personally examined such seaman or passed upon the case of such seaman as provided in section 16 of this act, or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection is completed, shall be subject to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the seaman remains aboard, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of the terms of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall fail to join his vessel at a designated port to the determination of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be deemed a deserter. Every master of any vessel who shall bring such alien seaman to the United States shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such deserter, to be recovered by the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the manner provided by law for the recovery of seamen's wages, and such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and clearance may be refused such vessel as a result thereof.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the relation of such seaman to any person in the United States, or because such seaman is helpful to the enforcement of the immigration laws of the United States, the Secretary of Labor may waive the deportation of such seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such seaman may be granted a permit to land temporarily, under such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such purpose: Provided, That a bond with sufficient surety shall be required and given in such amount, not exceeding $500, as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, to guarantee the departure of such seaman from the United States when required by the Secretary of Labor. The cost of maintenance while in hospital of any such seaman shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such vessel may be required to furnish a bond to guarantee the payment of such cost before granting clearance to such vessel.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or additions mentioned in section 12 (Form 528) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an arriving alien is in possession of a "work-slip" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list or manifest of all the persons on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each person who may be allowed to enter the United States, the intended length of stay, whether in possession of a ticket for passage to final destination, whether the transportation is paid in whole or in part by any person or corporation, the amount of money each alien has with him, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Every master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States shall furnish to each alien a card containing a legible number, and shall write the same number in the manifest before the name of each alien, and shall report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of each alien who has been identified for deportation, and the cause for such identification, and shall furnish such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Every master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States shall be responsible for the proper care of such aliens on board such vessel and for the delivery of such aliens to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and for the prevention of the landing of any such alien at any port or place in the United States not designated by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the landing of such alien, except in case of accident, illness, or other unavoidable cause, to be proved by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. Every master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made by the Secretary of Labor in pursuance thereof shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located a sum not exceeding $300 for each alien with respect to whom such refusal or neglect occurs, and no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(a) From and after an alien seaman who does not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the place outside thereof, or from the date he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel for departure, unless such alien seaman shall have been granted permission to land temporarily by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such permission has not been revoked by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman by reason of the length of time he has been employed there on, or the character of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is not scheduled to depart from the United States within thirty days after the date of the arrival of such alien seaman, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the deportation of such alien seaman, and permit him to remain in the United States for such time as he may specify, not exceeding four months, if the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall deposit with the collector of customs a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor, in such amount not exceeding $500 as the Secretary of Labor may direct, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart from the United States on or before the date specified by the Secretary of Labor, and will not become a public charge, and that the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived will pay the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman while in the United States and the cost of his deportation should he become a public charge. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States on a vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall be liable to the same extent as the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived for the cost of his maintenance and deportation, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he did not connive at or consent to the departure of such alien seaman on such other vessel.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been collected, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by section 36 of said Act, and the deposit specified in rule 23 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital or similar relief, or unless and until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall be satisfied and shall report to the Secretary of Labor that every reasonable effort has been made by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to ascertain whether or not such alien seaman intends to abandon his employment on board the vessel on which he arrived, and that such alien seaman has no such intention or intends to desert the vessel on which he arrived. Any alien seaman who fails to depart on board the vessel on which he arrived or on board some other vessel, or by some other means within the time specified by the Secretary of Labor for his departure, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof to the port of the country to which his vessel belongs, or at the option of the master of such vessel to the port at which he was originally shipped, or to the country in which he resided and from which he came to the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(a) From and after an alien seaman who does not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the place outside thereof, or from the date he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel for departure, unless such alien seaman shall have been granted permission to land temporarily by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such permission has not been revoked by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman by reason of the length of time he has been employed there on, or the character of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is not scheduled to depart from the United States within thirty days after the date of the arrival of such alien seaman, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the deportation of such alien seaman, and permit him to remain in the United States for such time as he may specify, not exceeding four months, if the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall deposit with the collector of customs a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor, in such amount not exceeding $500 as the Secretary of Labor may direct, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart from the United States on or before the date specified by the Secretary of Labor, and will not become a public charge, and that the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived will pay the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman while in the United States and the cost of his deportation should he become a public charge. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States on a vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall be liable to the same extent as the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived for the cost of his maintenance and deportation, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he did not connive at or consent to the departure of such alien seaman on such other vessel.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the boarding immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the business they respectively had in the ships company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who have been previously rejected, with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and also as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master to deliver to the immigration officer, at Atlantic, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and also as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from a port, lists containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival and who depart therefrom, and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a duplicate list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel at the time of the departure, and who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind and discharged, and the cause of such discharge, if known, and the intended destination of each alien: and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or any part thereof, or to report, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the Secretary of the Treasury, for the use of the United States, the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers before the performance of the conditions of the section or the payment of such fines, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question when deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been tendered, and not then unless bonds of indemnity to the satisfaction of the collector have been executed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, unless bond has been waived, the deposit specified in par. 53 has been made.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness to such extent as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to land a seaman on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry has caused such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the time of departure of such vessel from the port, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers during the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall appear upon the customs manifest of the vessel on which he arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of subdivision (a) of this section by the master of such vessel, but such presumption may be overcome by the master if he establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman was not allowed clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman by reason of his race, color, or religious beliefs, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 4. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 34 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been [illegible] and not then unless there is submitted to the master a certificate for transmittal by each master to the immigrant inspector at each port of call specifying the number of aliens, if any, to be landed at such port.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or becoming employed on board such vessel while in the United States, except seamen employed on board vessels touching only at ports in the Canal Zone, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, may be permitted to land in the United States during the period the vessel remains in port, but a sufficient sum of money, to be determined by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, may be required to be deposited with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival to insure the departure of such alien seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel, or by some other means approved by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Such deposit shall be refunded when the alien departs or is taken from the United States, or shall be forfeited for the payment of the hospital expenses of such alien seaman and his burial in case of death. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may require any such alien seaman to furnish a bond with sufficient surety in such form and amount as he may prescribe, in lieu of the deposit required herein. Any such alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, or by some other means approved by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or becoming employed on board such vessel while in the United States, except seamen employed on board vessels touching only at ports in the Canal Zone, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, who fails to deport on board any such vessel any alien seaman employed on board such vessel when such vessel departs from the United States from any port, or who fails to deport on board any vessel arriving in the United States any alien seaman employed on board such vessel when such vessel departs from any port, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port [illegible] is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so failing to deport, which sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by suit or proceeding against such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master, or against the vessel, in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port [illegible] is located: Provided, however, That no such suit or proceeding shall be instituted after the departure of such vessel from the port at which the alien seaman was employed on board thereof: Provided further, That clearance may be granted any such vessel prior to the payment of such sum or the institution of such suit or proceeding upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or the execution by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel of a bond with sufficient surety, approved by the collector of customs, conditioned upon the payment of such sum to the collector of customs within ten days from the date of such deposit or bond, unless in the meantime it be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that no such seaman was employed on board such vessel, or that such seaman has been duly discharged in a foreign port, or has been prevented from so doing by reason of his death, illness, or incarceration, or that such seaman has been otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, or that the vessel has been lost or destroyed by the casualties of the sea

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely none to be hired on the high seas by the master of any such vessel. The list of members of the crew shall be prepared in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such individuals shall be delivered, as required by this section. Except as provided in the next succeeding section, any such alien may be allowed to enter the United States temporarily for the purpose of and in connection with his employment as a member of the crew of such vessel, and may be discharged in the port of arrival without being landed from the vessel. Before a destination tax is collected or any such alien is allowed to land for any purpose, he shall be duly examined by an immigrant inspector, and if found to be afflicted with any contagious disease, or to be a person who would be excluded from admission to the United States under the provisions of this Act, he shall be detained on board or at quarantine until he can be returned to the foreign port whence he came, or to the country whence he sailed, as the circumstances may require. Any such alien who may be ordered back to the port whence he came shall be returned on the vessel bringing him to the United States, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall satisfy the immigrant inspector in charge that the cost of the return of such alien will be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of some other vessel or by some transportation company. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who shall not be allowed to land, or his employer, shall be required to pay the cost of his maintenance while detained at such port, and in default of such payment a lien is hereby imposed upon such vessel, and clearance may be withheld or granted and such vessel may be libeled for the amount. Any master who shall refuse to detain on board his vessel or to return any alien when ordered so to do by the immigrant inspector in charge shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien so ordered detained or returned, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty. Nothing herein contained shall be held to relieve any transportation company from any other fines, penalties, or exclusion provided by law.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the place destined by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been notified, and her final manifest passed, the deposit specified in rule 55 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or intermediate to such destinations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate debarkation, temporary or otherwise, of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners) a certificate in writing that such alien seaman has been found upon such inspection or to depart and such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the port or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to depart and such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the port or who fails to deliver such seaman to the collector of customs at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the outlying territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or intermediate to such destinations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate debarkation, temporary or otherwise, of such alien from the United States, may be required to depart at any time within five years of a determination by the Secretary of Labor that such departure is practicable and not incompatible with the treaty obligations of the United States, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and may be taken into custody for deportation by any immigrant inspector without warrant or other process. Such warrant shall specify the vessel on which the alien seaman is to be deported, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his deportation shall be a lien against such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States in which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld or granted and such vessel may be libeled for the amount. Any master who shall refuse to detain on board his vessel or to return any alien when ordered so to do by the immigrant inspector in charge shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such refusal, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance until such penalty is paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 9. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws heretofore or hereafter in force in the United States from any place in the United States, except upon a certificate in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, to the effect that the alien seaman has been duly admitted, or that he has been granted permission to land temporarily under bond or otherwise, shall be entitled to land in the United States, except temporarily on account of illness, relief, or other cause deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, during the period the vessel on which he arrived remains in port, or during a period of twenty-nine days from the date of his arrival, whichever is shorter, unless such alien seaman shall be duly certified by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival as not coming within any of the classes excluded by the immigration laws as to which such inspector has discretion to admit or to deport after examination, or as to whom the Secretary of Labor has in his discretion granted a waiver of such certification. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or from any vessel after the expiration of the period of time above specified, without having been certified by the immigrant inspector, or who shall land from any vessel at any time or place other than as designated by the immigrant inspector, or who shall remain in violation of the terms of the certificate granted him, or who shall not depart on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel within the period of time above specified, or who shall not present himself for examination at the time and place required by the immigrant inspector, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman who is not lawfully entitled to land in the United States, or who fails to detain on board and in charge of the master such alien seaman pending the examination of such seaman by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival and pending the final determination of the question of the right of such alien seaman to land in the United States, or who fails to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel or other vessel in which he shall be carried to the United States for return to the country from which he came, or who fails to pay the cost of his maintenance while detained, and the cost of his removal from the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) If any alien seaman shall not depart or be duly granted permission to land temporarily or shall land in the United States from any vessel in violation of law, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, and no clearance shall be granted the vessel on which he arrived, or any other vessel owned in whole or in part by the owner of such vessel, while such penalty remains unpaid.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived cannot be effected because of the inability to secure the services of a crew to man the vessel, or for any other reason, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel as the Secretary of Labor may direct, and the cost of maintenance pending deportation and of deportation shall be paid as provided in the case of deportation of aliens who have been granted visas.

(d) Food shall be given each alien seaman detained on board vessel during the time he is detained on board, but shall be furnished by the master of the vessel on which he arrived. Such food shall be furnished at the rate of not more than $1 per day for each alien seaman detained on board, but shall be furnished by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Incomplete or inaccurate manifests interrupt and inconvenience the debarkation AGT of 1924; and also it conduct on schedule manifests those aliens embarking in the initial class and the so-called tourist class. Where there are two or more aliens of the multiple of identical surnames and those whose given name do not begin with the same letter of the alphabet, the names of all the aliens of a family shall appear next after the name mentioned above when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Number on manifest).—The number of each alien arriving as a cabin passenger, or in the second class, or as a tourist, or other unlimited classification.

Column 2 (Last name).—The last name should be given in full (surname).

Column 3 (Given name).—The given name should be written in full (Christian).

Column 4 (Age).—Age should be entered as of last birthday. If under 1 year, state in months.

Column 5 (Married or single).—Each alien arriving must be reported as married or single. The term "married" includes only persons legally married and living with wife or husband. The terms "widow" and "widower" include persons who have been legally married and whose husband or wife is dead. The terms "single," "unmarried," "divorced," or other equivalent terms must be used to describe persons who have been married but are legally separated or divorced.

Column 6 (Occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as for example: laborer, common laborer, farmer, farm laborer, tailor, seamstress, dressmaker, merchant, clerk, bookkeeper, stenographer, cook, waiter, servant, maid, nurse, etc. Do not use such terms as gentleman, lady, student, or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between laborers and farm laborers, mechanics and skilled workmen, etc., so that the occupation of those shown may be apparent.

A farmer is one who operates a farm either for himself or for others.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Aliens should be asked: If necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of each alien, whether they have been employed for 12 months or more in the United States, and if so, where and for whom they worked.

Column 7 (Can read).—This column is sometimes left blank, but sometimes contains the entry "Yes" or "No". If the alien can read any language, write "Yes"; if not, write "No". If illiterate, the alien should be asked to read a few lines in his own language to test his ability to read.

Column 8 (Can write).—Question 8 should be construed to mean the ability of the alien to write in a written or printed form.

Column 9 (Country of birth).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race or people as given in said list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which aliens are subjects, country of last permanent residence, and country of birth.

"French" is understood to mean the people of France, and those aliens who speak the French language as their mother tongue should be correctly termed by inspectors in this regard. For instance, "French" citizens, although they may be born and reside in Canada, should be described as "French" by race or people and not as "Canadians" by country. An Irish, Scotch, or Welsh alien who speaks the English language as his mother tongue should be described as "English" by race or people and not as "British" by country. An Italian, Austrian, Hungarian, Polish, Russian, Finnish, Bohemian, Moravian, Slovak, Dalmatian, Croatian, Servian, Ruthenian, Turkish, Armenian, Syrian, Arabian, Chinese, Japanese, Hindu, East Indian, Mexican, West Indian, Portuguese, Spanish, Central American, South American, or other native, should be described as to his particular race or people, and not by the country to which he may have recently come.

Column 10 (Last residence).—Here should be entered the country of last permanent residence, as distinguished from country of birth.

Column 11 (Name of vessel).—The name of the vessel in which the alien arrives should be entered in full.

Column 12 (Date of arrival).—The date of arrival should be entered in figures, thus: "7/1/24", which would indicate July 1, 1924.

Column 13 (Final destination).—Every effort should be made to ascertain the final destination of each alien, and the city, town, or village should be given. If destined to the United States, the State should be named. If destined to Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or Newfoundland, the name of the country should be given.

Column 14 (Have you ever been in the United States? If so, when? If so, how long?).—The answer to this question should be entered in words and figures, thus: "Two years, 1922 and 1923", "Three months, 1924", "Seven years, 1917 to 1924", etc. Where the alien has been in the United States more than once, all the periods should be stated.

Column 15 (Have you ever been in prison or in almshouse or asylum? If so, where? If so, why?).—The answer should be "Yes" or "No", as the case may be, and in answering it it will often be found necessary to ask several questions. Where the answer is "Yes" the question should be fully developed, and the cause of the detention or institutional care should be stated.

Column 16 (Are you a polygamist?).—The answer should be "Yes" or "No", as the case may be.

Column 17 (Are you an anarchist?).—The answer should be "Yes" or "No", as the case may be.

Column 18 (Are you connected with any organization or society which teaches the overthrow by force or violence or by assassination of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law?).—The answer should be "Yes" or "No", as the case may be.

Column 19 (Are you coming to the United States to perform any kind of labor if so, what kind of labor for whom, where, and at what wages each week or month? Have you a ticket? Paid for by whom? Amount of money in your possession? Amount?).—The answer should be in figures, thus: "$50", "$100", etc. Where the alien has less than $50 in his possession, the exact amount should be stated.

Column 20 (Are you a member of the following classes: Polygamists, anarchists, persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence or by assassination of all forms of law, persons who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, persons who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property, criminals, prostitutes, professional beggars, persons coming for any immoral purpose, persons who have been insane within five years previous to coming to the United States, persons who have had two or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, epileptics, persons who are mentally defective, persons who have been deported under any of the provisions of the immigration laws, persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in narcotic drugs or marihuana, persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law prohibiting the sale or circulation of obscene publications or articles, persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in white slaves, persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the practice of polygamy, persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the importation of prostitutes or women for immoral purposes, persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the importation of contract laborers, persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the importation of persons who are likely to become public charges

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Recording or separate manifests immediately and conscientiously, as required by the Immigration Act of 1924; but also to recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, where there is a technical equality, but always when they travel in the same manifest apart from those who do not pass such inspection. The names of all members of the family should appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Head-tax status).—Steamship line should make no entries in this column. The space is for use of Government officials only.

Column 2 (Age).—The words in this column should be expressed in years or months, the latter appearing only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 3 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 4 (Married or single).—The entry should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 5 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: bookkeeper, steel worker, farmer, or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between farmers and farm laborers, segregating of the amount of money owned, as follows:

A farmer is one who operates a farm, either for himself or for others.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, and correction from should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of alien arriving.

Column 8 (Able to read and write).—This column is subdivided and contains the following questions: "Read; cannot read"; "Write; cannot write." In answering this question, "Yes" is sufficient. Do not use "Can" or "Cannot." If the alien is able to read but cannot write, answer "Yes" to the first question and "No" to the second. It is not sufficient to indicate literacy in a foreign tongue unless such examination should be given.

Column 9 (Nationality).—Question 9 should be construed to mean the country of which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race or people as given in this list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, consists of; also permanent residence, and country of birth, and manifests should be carefully revised by inspectors in this regard. For instance, "France" should not be used to designate the nationality of a native of a race or people, and similarly "French" should not be used to designate the race or people of France. Also, "German" or "Hebrew" often by race might be Englishmen, Switzerland, or any other country. If this connection the following distinctions should be observed:

CANAL

The term "Canal" refers to the Canal people (not Negroes).

WEST INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Canal or Negroes.

AFRICAN NEGRO

"Negro" refers to the African (black); whether coming from Cape or other parts of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien falling to the African (black) should be classified under this heading.

Column 11 (Last or final).—The State, province, or district of birth should be shown in addition to the city or town.

Column 12 (Seaport handed to document).—Enter seaport at which alien last received document with application for visa, or "Visa" or "No Visa" or "Not Required," as the circumstances may be. Consular officers should be careful to see that the manifest is in duplicate, as required by section 4 (a).

Column 13.—The question has reference to the lines and date of issue of the document described in column 12, but is self-explanatory.

Column 14 (Verifications of landing, etc.).—Steamship lines should make no entries in this column. The space is for use of Government officials only.

Column 15 (Last permanent residence).—Strictly to an informed residence of 1 year or more shall be the last permanent residence. The names of all members of a family should appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Immigrants are required to be examined by the Inspectors at the time of their arrival at the port of Boston, and no immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel. The law requires that each immigrant shall have in his possession the amount of money which he states he has when he arrives at the port of Boston, and that he shall not be landed from the vessel unless he has at least $5 in his possession. Masters of vessels will be required to report the name of each immigrant who has been refused permission to land, and the reason therefor, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who is afflicted with idiocy, insanity, epilepsy, or any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who admits the commission of such a crime or misdemeanor, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who is a polygamist, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who has been previously deported, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel, unless the Secretary of Labor shall have given consent to his application for readmission.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who is coming to the United States in pursuance of a contract or agreement to perform labor, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel, unless a permit from the Secretary of Labor shall be exhibited to the Inspectors at the time of such immigrant's application for admission, showing that the matter of such contract or agreement has been submitted to and approved by the Secretary of Labor, and that such immigrant is not excluded from admission under the provisions of the immigration laws.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who is under sixteen years of age, and who is coming to the United States unaccompanied by either father or mother, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel, unless a permit from the Secretary of Labor shall be exhibited to the Inspectors at the time of such immigrant's application for admission, showing that the matter of such immigrant's coming has been submitted to and approved by the Secretary of Labor, and that such immigrant is not excluded from admission under the provisions of the immigration laws.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who is an idiot, or who is deaf and dumb, or who is blind in both eyes, or who is crippled by the loss of both hands or both feet, or who is crippled by the loss of one hand and one foot, or who is otherwise physically disabled to such a degree as to affect his ability to earn a support, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel, unless a permit from the Secretary of Labor shall be exhibited to the Inspectors at the time of such immigrant's application for admission, showing that the matter of such immigrant's physical disability has been submitted to and approved by the Secretary of Labor, and that such immigrant is not excluded from admission under the provisions of the immigration laws.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who is under fifteen years of age, and who is coming to the United States unaccompanied by either father or mother, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel, unless a permit from the Secretary of Labor shall be exhibited to the Inspectors at the time of such immigrant's application for admission, showing that the matter of such immigrant's coming has been submitted to and approved by the Secretary of Labor, and that such immigrant is not excluded from admission under the provisions of the immigration laws.

Masters of vessels are also required to report the name of each immigrant who is a female, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of Boston, and no such immigrant will be allowed to land from the vessel, unless a permit from the Secretary of Labor shall be exhibited to the Inspectors at the time of such immigrant's application for admission, showing that the matter of such immigrant's coming has been submitted to and approved by the Secretary of Labor, and that such immigrant is not excluded from admission under the provisions of the immigration laws: Provided, That the provisions of this section relating to the admission of females shall not apply to females accompanied by husband, father, brother, or legal guardian, at the time of such immigrant's application for admission, and that such husband, father, brother, or legal guardian is not excluded from admission under the provisions of the immigration laws: And provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the admission of females shall not apply to females who are not otherwise excluded from admission under the immigration laws, if they or their husbands have resided in the United States three years next preceding the time of their application for admission, and have not during such time been supported at public expense.

The law provides that if masters of vessels fail to report any of the facts required by the immigration laws, or if they land any immigrant who is not entitled to land, they shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located until the master has deposited with the collector the sum of $100 for each such alien, or has given a bond with sufficient sureties in such sum to cover such payment, or has obtained from the Secretary of Labor a certificate that such sum is not required to be deposited or bonded.

(a) Alien seamen excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and may be employed on board any vessel departing from the United States for any place outside thereof, and may be employed in the operation of such vessel while in the United States: Provided, That such alien seamen shall be entered and cleared under such regulations as the Secretary of Labor, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, may prescribe, and shall be issued such documentation by the Secretary of Labor as may be necessary to establish their right to return to the United States if they shall desire to leave the United States temporarily.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such vessel any alien immigrant ordered deported from the United States, or who refuses or fails to deport any such alien immigrant when ordered deported, or who fails to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to the removal of any such alien immigrant, or who fails to comply with the provisions of section 8 of the immigration act of 1924 relative to the inspection of alien seamen, or who fails to deport any such alien seaman (except those specified in section 3 hereof) when ordered deported by the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such vessel shall be found the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fee, or while the fee is unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fee, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall furnish a bond in the sum of $300 conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman on any vessel departing from the United States within four months after the date of such bond, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such expense, to be determined by the Secretary of Labor. Upon the departure of such alien seaman on a vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, and upon the certification by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the collector of customs that such alien seaman has departed on such vessel, the collector of customs shall cancel the bond or return the sum deposited, as the case may be, less any expense incurred in the deportation of such alien seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived cannot within reasonable diligence be accomplished, or that the cost of deportation on another vessel will be unreasonably disproportionate to the cost of deportation on the vessel on which he arrived, but such alien seaman shall be permitted to depart on any vessel upon which there is room for him, and which is about to depart from the United States, and upon the certification by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the collector of customs that such alien seaman has departed on such vessel, the collector of customs shall cancel the bond or return the sum deposited, as the case may be, less any expense incurred in the deportation of such alien seaman.

(d) Section 32 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but such repeal shall not affect any act done or any right accruing or accrued or any suit or proceeding had or commenced in any civil cause before the said repeal, but all rights and liabilities under said section shall continue and may be enforced in the same manner as if said section had not been repealed.

The list or manifest shall be prepared as hereinbefore directed even though no aliens are carried on such vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required to be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival may be typewritten or printed, or partly typewritten and partly printed, but shall be made up on the manifest forms approved and furnished by the Department of Labor, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a like list or manifest, prepared as above directed, shall be made up by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel before her departure from each subsequent port or place in a foreign country at which she may touch before coming to the United States, and delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment unless in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor such alien is not a member of a class which is likely to become a public charge or is not likely to endanger the welfare, safety, or health of the United States, and unless (1) such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that he is in possession of a valid passport issued to him by the country of which he claims nationality, or by a consular officer of such country, and that he intends to depart from the United States on a vessel or aircraft for which he has been granted a conditional permit to land, or (2) such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is unable to obtain a passport from the country of which he claims nationality, or from a consular officer of such country, because no such officer is stationed in the United States, and that he intends to depart from the United States on a vessel or aircraft for which he has been granted a conditional permit to land, or (3) such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is a bona fide resident of the United States and is returning to the United States from a temporary visit abroad, or (4) such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is entitled to enter the United States as a returning immigrant under section 4(b) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended by section 13(b) of the Act of May 10, 1928, as amended, or (5) such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is entitled to enter the United States as a returning quota immigrant under section 4(c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended by section 13(b) of the Act of May 10, 1928, as amended. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended, but shall remain in prison in lieu of bail until deported. Any master who shall refuse to receive such alien seaman on board his vessel when ordered to do so by an immigration officer, or who shall fail to detain such alien seaman on board until the departure of the vessel from the port, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question upon the report of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, except that clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the penalty with such officer or person as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Such deposit shall be returned if the alien seaman is found upon inquiry to have been entitled to enter the United States, or to have been prevented from departing from the United States on the vessel for which he had been granted a conditional permit to land by reason of illness, quarantine, or other cause beyond his control, or if the vessel is prevented from departing from the United States by reason of stress of weather or other cause beyond the control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify section 18 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended, but such section shall be enforced as if this section had not been enacted.

(b) There shall be paid by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien seaman to the United States, for the use of the United States, a tax of $8 for each such alien seaman, which tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, and shall be collected as a head tax is collected from masters of vessels bringing immigrants to the United States, and shall be refunded in the same manner and under the same conditions as such head tax is refunded. Such tax shall not be refunded in the case of any alien seaman who is found upon inquiry to have been entitled to enter the United States, or to have been prevented from departing from the United States on the vessel for which he had been granted a conditional permit to land by reason of illness, quarantine, or other cause beyond his control, or if the vessel is prevented from departing from the United States by reason of stress of weather or other cause beyond the control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner. Such tax shall not be refunded in any case where such alien seaman has been granted a visa as an immigrant entitled to the preference provided for in section 4(c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended by section 13(b) of the Act of May 10, 1928, as amended, or has been granted a visa as a returning immigrant under section 4(b) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended by section 13(b) of the Act of May 10, 1928, as amended, or has been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant under section 4(d) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended by section 13(b) of the Act of May 10, 1928, as amended, or has been granted a visa as a returning quota immigrant under section 4(c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended by section 13(b) of the Act of May 10, 1928, as amended, or has been IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list specified below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and kept for delivery to the immigration officer at the port. When no alien is carried on any vessel, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, commander, or agent of such vessel, and the owner thereof who may be present, severally to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens sailing on such vessel, and severally to answer such questions as may be put by such officer, or by any other officer designated by the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, and such other questions touching the immigration, nationality, and right to admission of each alien as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The list or manifest of aliens shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and may be changed from time to time by him. The master, commander, agent, and owner of any such vessel shall severally subscribe to the truth of the statements made by them in such lists or manifests, and each shall be severally liable to the United States for the payment of a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each and every alien with respect to whom any violation of this section occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers, or the equivalent thereof, while the master, commander, agent, or owner thereof is liable for any payment required by this section. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse clearance papers to any vessel the master, commander, agent, or owner of which shall have failed to comply with the requirements of this section or with any regulations made by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to law governing the admission of aliens to the United States, and may withhold clearance papers from any vessel arriving at a port where such master, commander, agent, or owner of such vessel shall have been guilty of such failure until a hearing has been had before the Secretary of Labor or his assistant charged with the administration of the immigration laws at the port, and the Secretary of Labor or his assistant shall direct that clearance papers be granted the master, commander, agent, or owner of such vessel. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse clearance papers to any vessel which has been allowed to depart without the inspection required by this section of any alien on board, or which has been permitted to land temporarily any alien under the provisions of section 25 of this Act, pending his examination and report as to the right of such alien to land, and may withhold clearance papers pending the decision as to any such alien. Upon the refusal by the Secretary of Labor to grant clearance papers to any vessel, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, take possession of the vessel to enforce the payments which may become due under this section. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require masters of vessels to prevent passengers from having communication with shore, subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Every alien who shall come to the United States by water, whether entering at a port or place or elsewhere, shall report himself in person to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry designated by the Secretary of Labor for the examination of aliens, unless prevented by sickness or other cause found sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, or by a person duly authorized thereby to perform such service for him, and shall not enter the United States at any other port or place than the port of entry designated by the Secretary of Labor for the examination of aliens, unless prevented by stress of weather or other cause found sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, or by a person duly authorized thereby to permit him to enter at such other port or place. Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this subdivision shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have reasonable cause to believe that any alien is subject to exclusion or deportation under any of the provisions of this Act, he may cause such alien to be detained for a period not exceeding five days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, pending the completion of the examination by the medical officer. If the medical officer certifies that such alien is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, such alien shall be detained until he is no longer certified to be so afflicted, or is certified by the Secretary of Labor to be no longer a menace to the health of the United States, or is deported or removed from the United States, or until he is permitted to enter the United States by the Secretary of Labor or by the United States courts. Pending the examination by the medical officer, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be detained in a hospital, or may make such other provision for his detention as he may deem necessary. Such detention shall be deemed to be detention at the port of entry. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention pending examination by the medical officer of any alien who has been certified to the Secretary of Labor by the examining surgeon at the last port of foreign embarkation or first port of arrival in the United States as not showing any symptoms of any contagious disease.

(d) Section 23 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all cases arising, rights accrued, penalties incurred, and proceedings begun before the effective date of this Act.

The list or manifest of aliens shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and may be changed from time to time by him. The master, commander, agent, and owner of any such vessel shall severally subscribe to the truth of the statements made by them in such lists or manifests, and each shall be severally liable to the United States for the payment of a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each and every alien with respect to whom any violation of this section occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers, or the equivalent thereof, while the master, commander, agent, or owner thereof is liable for any payment required by this section. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse clearance papers to any vessel the master, commander, agent, or owner of which shall have failed to comply with the requirements of this section or with any regulations made by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to law governing the admission of aliens to the United States, and may withhold clearance papers from any vessel arriving at a port where such master, commander, agent, or owner of such vessel shall have been guilty of such failure until a hearing has been had before the Secretary of Labor or his assistant charged with the administration of the immigration laws at the port, and the Secretary of Labor or his assistant shall direct that clearance papers be granted the master, commander, agent, or owner of such vessel. The list of aliens or manifest of aliens (Form 2500) shall not be required in the case of aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries, including aliens who have been admitted to the United States and who are in transit to foreign countries, and aliens who are citizens or subjects of countries adjacent to the United States or islands adjacent thereto and who are in transit through the United States to such countries, and aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit to foreign countries, unless the master, commander, agent, or owner of the vessel on which any such alien arrives at a port of the United States has reason to believe that any such alien intends to remain permanently in the United States, or unless such alien is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, if such visa is required by this Act or regulations made thereunder, or other travel document, or is not in possession of a valid passport, if a passport is required by the laws of the country from which he came, or by the laws of the United States or by any treaty or convention to which the United States and the country from which he came are parties. Every alien who shall come to the United States by water, whether entering at a port or place or elsewhere, shall report himself in person to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry designated by the Secretary of Labor for the examination of aliens, unless prevented by sickness or other cause found sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, or by a person duly authorized thereby to perform such service for him, and shall not enter the United States at any other port or place than the port of entry designated by the Secretary of Labor for the examination of aliens, unless prevented by stress of weather or other cause found sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, or by a person duly authorized thereby to permit him to enter at such other port or place. Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this subdivision shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(b) That any alien who shall come to the United States in violation of law through any seaport, either concealed in a vessel leaving a foreign port or a vessel not duly authorized while such vessel is in port, or who shall come to the United States by any means or in any manner contrary to the provisions of this Act, may be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at any time within five years after the time he may have entered the United States, in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who become public charges from causes not existing at the time of entry.

No alien seaman employed from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be entered on board any vessel departing from any place outside thereof until he shall be examined by a consular officer and shall have been granted a permit to go on board such vessel. Such permit shall be granted only upon the production by such alien seaman of a valid passport containing a description of the bearer, and a photograph of sufficient clearness to show the features of the bearer, and bearing the visé of a consular officer of the United States at the place where such permit is granted, or, if there be no consular officer at such place, the visé of a consular officer of a country with which the United States maintains friendly relations, and which country has not been denied the privilege of visé by the Secretary of State. Such visé shall be granted only upon the production by such alien seaman of such evidence as may be required by the rules and regulations governing the granting of visés to nonimmigrant aliens. Such permit shall be granted only upon the payment by such alien seaman of a fee of $10, which shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the appropriation for the administration of this Act. Such permit shall be valid only for the particular vessel named therein, and only for such length of time as the bona fide seaman shall be employed on such vessel, and only for such time as the vessel may remain in port, or for such time as may be necessary for the vessel to proceed directly to a foreign port, and only for such time as may be necessary for the alien seaman to proceed directly to the vessel on which he is employed. Such permit shall be void when the seaman for whose use it was granted has left the vessel on which he was employed. (a) Except as otherwise provided by the Secretary of Labor, no alien seaman shall be granted a permit to enter the United States for the purpose of shipping on board any vessel at any port or place in the United States unless such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport and unless the consular officer who issued such passport shall have certified in writing thereon that he has been identified as the person entitled to the use of such passport.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by the Secretary of Labor, no alien seaman shall be granted a permit to enter the United States for the purpose of shipping on board any vessel at any port or place in the United States unless such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport and unless the consular officer who issued such passport shall have certified in writing thereon that he has been identified as the person entitled to the use of such passport.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have reasonable cause to believe that any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived at the United States from any foreign port or place is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, such alien seaman shall be detained on board the vessel until he is no longer certified to be so afflicted, or is certified by the Secretary of Labor to be no longer a menace to the health of the United States, or is deported or removed from the United States, or until he is permitted to enter the United States by the Secretary of Labor or by the United States courts. Pending the examination by the medical officer, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien seaman to be detained in a hospital, or may make such other provision for his detention as he may deem necessary. (d) Every alien seaman who shall come to the United States in violation of law through any seaport, either concealed in a vessel leaving a foreign port or a vessel not duly authorized while such vessel is in port, or who shall come to the United States by any means or in any manner contrary to the provisions of this Act, may be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at any time within five years after the time he may have entered the United States, in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who become public charges from causes not existing at the time of entry. The list of aliens or manifest of aliens (Form 2500) shall not be required in the case of aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries, including aliens who have been admitted to the United States and who are in transit to foreign countries, and aliens who are citizens or subjects of countries adjacent to the United States or islands adjacent thereto and who are in transit through the United States to such countries, and aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit to foreign countries, unless the master, commander, agent, or owner of the vessel on which any such alien arrives at a port of the United States has reason to believe that any such alien intends to remain permanently in the United States, or unless such alien is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, if such visa is required by this Act or regulations made thereunder, or other travel document, or is not in possession of a valid passport, if a passport is required by the laws of the country from which he came, or by the laws of the United States or by any treaty or convention to which the United States and the country from which he came are parties. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws now employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be granted a permit to enter the United States temporarily for medical treatment, unless the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall have previously entered into a bond in the penal sum of $500 with a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury, guaranteeing the payment of the hospital expenses and incidental charges in connection with the maintenance of such alien, or shall have deposited with the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization the sum of $500 to cover such expenses. INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. According or separate manifests numbering and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also according or separate manifests those aliens traveling in the first class and the so-called tourist class, whose first post the initials of descriptive words, and those whose first to not post such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear also under the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, apportioning the to a family shall appear also under the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, apportioning cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Number on list.)—Consecutive lines should make no entries in this column. The space is for use of Government officials only.

Column 2 (Name.)—The surname in full of each alien should be expressed in terms of initials, the latter ending only to those under 1 year of age.

A distinction should be made between farmers and farm laborers, targeting of the number of money aliens, as follows:

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according to separate manifests numbered consecutively in the third class and numbering continuously as defined by the immigration Act of 1924: but also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the first class and the so-called tourist class, whose races, peoples, or nationalities are specifically exempted from the immigration Act of 1924, as amended, by Section 4 (b).

Column 1 (Line of ship).—The name of the ship, voyage, or sailing as assigned by the transportation line.

Column 2 (Date).—The date of departure from the last port of foreign embarkation.

Column 3 (Name).—The surname should be written first, followed by the given names and middle name or initial, if any.

Column 4 (Age).—The age should be given in years, as of the last birthday.

Column 5 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 6 (Married or single).—The entry should be M (married), S (single), M (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien person, as for example: Clerk, salesman, shoemaker, tailor, seamstress, housework, none, laborer, farmer, merchant, manufacturer, engineer, lawyer, physician, author, actress, editor, teacher, student, etc. But not simply as gentleman, lady, boy, girl, or child (or minor).

Column 8 (Nationality).—The nationality should be entered as the country to which the person belongs, or of which he is a citizen or subject.

Column 9 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race or people as given in this list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject. Consult the list mentioned heretofore and consult it often. Immigrants should be correctly entered by inspectors in this regard. For instance, "French" races, otherwise under the head of country, does not mean "French" by race or people, but merely "France," by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly come under the heading of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following distinctions should be carefully observed:

CZECH

The term "Czech," refers to the Czech people (not Czechs).

WEST INDIAN

The term "West Indian," refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cuban or Mexican.

SPANISH AMERICAN

"Spanish American," refers to the people of Central and South America of Spanish descent.

NEGRO

"Negro," refers to the African (black), whether coming from Cuba or other islands of the West Indies. North or South America. Europe, or Africa. Any alien mixed admixture of blood of the African (black) should be classified under this heading.

Column 10 (Last permanent residence).—Actual or permanent address in the country from which he comes to the United States, as for example: Paris, France; Berlin, Germany; Dublin, Ireland; Rome, Italy; Havana, Cuba; Mexico City, Mexico; Tokio, Japan; Shanghai, China; Athens, Greece; Moscow, Russia; Stockholm, Sweden; Christiania, Norway; Copenhagen, Denmark; Liverpool, Manchester, London, Scotland, or Wales; Belfast, Ireland; Sydney, Melbourne, Australia; Auckland, New Zealand; Honolulu, Hawaii; Manila, Philippine Islands; Ponce, Porto Rico; Habana, Cuba; Panama City, Panama; Colon, Panama Canal Zone; Valparaiso, Chile; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Montevideo, Uruguay; Bogota, Colombia; Caracas, Venezuela; Guatemala City, Guatemala; Managua, Nicaragua; San Salvador, Salvador; Tegucigalpa, Honduras; San Jose, Costa Rica; Panama City, Panama; Port au Prince, Haiti; Santo Domingo City, Dominican Republic; Kingston, Jamaica; Nassau, Bahamas; Hamilton, Bermuda; Belize, British Honduras; Georgetown, British Guiana; Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana; Cayenne, French Guiana; Curacao, Dutch West Indies; Port of Spain, Trinidad; Bridgetown, Barbados; Basseterre, St. Kitts-Nevis; Castries, St. Lucia; Kingstown, St. Vincent; St. George's, Grenada; Roseau, Dominica; Fort de France, Martinique; Pointe a Pitre, Guadeloupe; Willemstad, Curacao; Oranjestad, Aruba; Kralendijk, Bonaire; Philipsburg, St. Maarten; Gustavia, St. Barthelemy; Marigot, St. Martin; Basse Terre, Guadeloupe; Fort de France, Martinique; Castries, St. Lucia; Kingstown, St. Vincent; St. George's, Grenada; Roseau, Dominica

The 3d proviso of section 2 of the Immigration act of February 20, 1907, reads as follows:

"That the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section, including the delivery to aliens of notices of the time and place at which they will be required to appear for examination, and he may employ such additional medical officers, assistant surgeons, and other employees as he may deem to be necessary for the purpose of such examinations."

Section 25 of the act of February 20, 1907, reads as follows:

"That any alien who shall come into the United States or who shall attempt to come into the United States in violation of law by means of a false or misleading statement or without inspection and admission by an immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States designated by the Secretary of Labor, or who enters the United States by means of any false or misleading statement or without being duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States designated by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted under this act or any rule or regulation made by the Secretary of Labor in pursuance thereof, shall be deported as provided in this act to the country whence he came, or, at his option, to the country from which he last emigrated, except that if he shall have been found in the United States in violation of this act, he shall be deported to the country whence he came, unless the cost of his deportation to such country shall be greater than the cost of deportation to the country from which he last emigrated, in which case he shall be deported to the country from which he last emigrated if the cost of his deportation thereto shall not be greater than to the country whence he came. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the deportation of any such alien to the country from which he last emigrated if he shall find that the cost of deportation to such country is unreasonably great, or that for other reasons deportation to such country ought not to be made, and in such case may substitute therefor the deportation of such alien to any country which he may designate which is willing to receive such alien, not more than such cost of deportation to the country whence he came would be, and which can be reached without substantially increasing the total cost of deportation, or to any country which is willing to receive such alien, without expense to the United States, and which can be reached without substantially increasing the total cost of deportation. Any alien who shall come into the United States in violation of law may be taken on the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, or any person duly authorized in writing by him, within one year and any alien who becomes a public charge from causes existing prior to his landing, within two years after he shall have landed, shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken back to the country whence he came, in the manner provided for his deportation. Any alien arrested under the provisions of this section shall be detained in custody pending the determination of his case, unless in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, or such officer as he may designate, he can furnish bail or security, in such sum and with such conditions as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, for his appearance for hearing or deportation, or shall be clearly entitled to admission. Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States designated by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall bring into the United States any alien afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Any person who shall aid or assist any alien to land in the United States at a time or place other than as designated by immigrant inspectors or other officers of the United States designated by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall aid or assist any alien to enter the United States who has been excluded and deported or who is liable to be excluded under the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both. Any person who shall assist or abet any alien to unlawfully enter the United States or any place in the possession thereof, or who shall conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, or attempt to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, any such alien in any place, including any building or any means of conveyance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both. Any alien who shall enter the United States after the time prescribed for his departure and who shall remain therein in violation of law may be arrested and deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who unlawfully entered the United States. Any steamship or transportation company which shall land any alien, other than a citizen of the United States, at any port within the United States, which alien has been refused a landing permit by the immigrant inspectors, or which alien, when he arrived at the port of entry, was afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, which was known to the company, or could have been known by the exercise of reasonable diligence, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each and every such alien so landed. Any person who shall, in any way, assist any alien thus refused a landing to land within the United States, or who shall, after such refusal, conceal, harbor, or protect such alien, or who shall help such alien to elude the examination or escape from the custody of the officers, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both. Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States designated by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall bring into the United States any alien afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both. Any person who shall, in any way, assist any alien thus refused a landing to land within the United States, or who shall, after such refusal, conceal, harbor, or protect such alien, or who shall help such alien to elude the examination or escape from the custody of the officers, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

Any alien who shall enter the United States after the time for which he was admitted shall pay a tax of $10 in addition to any other tax or charge provided for by law.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 11. (a) Any alien against whom a final order of exclusion has been made by the Secretary of Labor may apply to the United States commissioner having jurisdiction over the port at which such alien arrived in the United States for a review of such order, and such commissioner shall thereupon order a hearing upon such application. Upon the hearing such alien may be represented by such persons as he may see fit, at his own cost and expense, and may introduce such evidence as he may desire bearing upon the matters under consideration. Such hearing shall be held as speedily as practicable, and the decision of such commissioner shall be final unless reversed on review as hereinafter provided.

(b) Any alien against whom a final order of exclusion has been made by the Secretary of Labor may, within one year after the entry of such order, apply to the United States district judge for the district in which such alien has arrived for a writ of review. Such application shall be made by petition which shall briefly set forth the alleged error upon which the applicant relies for such writ. A copy of such petition shall be forthwith served upon the United States commissioner who rendered the decision complained of, and the Secretary of Labor shall cause the record certified in such case to be filed with the clerk of such court within such time as such court may direct. Such review shall be limited to questions of law presented by such record. No alien against whom a final order of exclusion has been made shall be deported during the pendency of proceedings instituted by him under the provisions of this section, nor shall the order of the Secretary of Labor be executed during such further time as the court may fix after the decision thereon. The final decision of such court shall be reviewable by appeal to the circuit court of appeals in the circuit wherein the case was heard, and the decision of such circuit court of appeals shall be final. The review by the circuit court of appeals shall be taken and had upon the record and the evidence submitted to the district court. Such appeals shall be taken and had upon petition, which shall briefly set forth the alleged errors upon which the appellant relies for reversal of the decision of the district court. Such appeal shall be taken within thirty days after the decision complained of, unless the court, in its discretion, shall allow a further time, not exceeding sixty days, within which such petition may be filed. The clerk of the district court shall forthwith notify the United States commissioner who rendered the decision complained of of the taking of such appeal, and the Secretary of Labor shall cause the record certified in such case to be filed with the clerk of such circuit court of appeals within such time as such court may direct. Such appeal shall be heard and determined by the court of appeals as speedily as possible consistent with the due consideration thereof. The determination by the circuit court of appeals shall be final. Pending the review by the circuit court of appeals the alien shall be detained in custody unless released upon bail in such sum and with such sureties as may be required by the court. If the final decision is adverse to the alien, the Secretary of Labor shall cause him to be deported in pursuance of the warrant of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall not determine to the alien's advantage on the record on appeal to the circuit court of appeals within six months after the filing of the record in such court, the alien may apply to the district judge for a writ of habeas corpus, and such judge shall have jurisdiction to discharge such alien from custody, unless the Secretary of Labor shall show cause why such alien should not be discharged. If the writ of habeas corpus is denied by the district judge, the alien may appeal to the circuit court of appeals, and the decision of such court of appeals shall be final. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to limit the right of habeas corpus.

(d) Section 25 of the immigration act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all cases arising under that statute before the passage of this act.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list is changed or alien members added to the crew (from 48) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is at a "foreign" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and shortly prior to or being on board such vessel at the time of her departure from the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens if none of the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the application to the detriment of such alien, or while the case is pending, except with the consent of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the claim of the master, owner, agent, or consignee, or while it remains subject to the decision of the Secretary of Labor, who shall, on the request of the master, owner, agent, or consignee of any vessel, cause a thorough examination to be made by a board of special inquiry of the facts connected with the case, and his decision shall be final as to the right of any alien to land. Upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor to the collector of customs of the decision in favor of any alien detained on board any vessel, the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs a sum equal to the cost of the return of such alien to the country whence he came, and the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which she may be found. Such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and she may be detained until it is paid or secured to be paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor or the decision of the board of special inquiry reversed. Pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor, the master, owner, agent, or consignee may deposit with the collector of customs the sum demanded or such security as may be required by him, and thereupon the vessel shall be granted clearance, but such deposit shall not be construed as a payment, satisfaction, or waiver of any penalty incurred or to accrue under any of the provisions of this Act.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who not subject to the provisions of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to be detained on board or at such other place as he may designate pending the determination of his admissibility to the United States, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel as a condition precedent to the granting of clearance shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the return of such alien, such deposit to be refunded upon the payment of the cost of the return of such alien or the failure of the immigration officer to certify within forty-eight hours after the vessel's departure that such alien is claimed for deportation.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel on which he arrived who could cause undue hardship to such seaman if such deportation is delayed or postponed, and such seaman is willing and able to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or because of illness of such seaman requiring his removal, or for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada or Mexico) who shall employ on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by such immigration officer or the medical officer of the public health service detailed for the purpose) shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.
